THOUGHT FOR THE SEASON

Christmas does not give us a ladder to climb out of the human condition. It gives us a drill to burrow into the heart of everything that is and, there, to find it already shimmering with divinity. (Avery Dulles)

POPE FRANCIS ON CHRISTMAS

That night, the one who had no place to be born is proclaimed to those who had no place at the table or in the streets of the city. The shepherds are the first to hear this good news. By reason of their work, they were men and women forced to live on the edges of society. Their state of life, and the places they had to stay, prevented them from observing all the ritual prescriptions of religious purification: as a result, they were regarded as unclean. Their skin, their clothing, their smell, their way of speaking, their origin, all betrayed them. Everything about them generated mistrust. They were men and women to be kept at a distance, to be feared. They were considered pagans among the believers, sinners among the just, foreigners among citizens. Yet to them - pagans, sinners, and foreigners - the angel says: 'Do not be afraid. Listen, I bring you news of great joy, a joy to be shared by the whole people. Today in the town of David a saviour has been born for you; he is the Christ, the Lord'. (Christmas Day 2017)
